

ROSE

I picked a flower
from somewhere beyond the wall that encloses my home where no one is allowed to enter yet this flower crept over the brick and peeped into my very centre of nowhere, where nobody,
not even me has visited

Liminal Animism: Rose
by Linda Briskin

by Jasmine D'Costa, PhD (author and editor)

Encounters with Light, Toronto Heliconian Club, May 2014